

WOMEN'S RIGHTS.

The following circular has been addressed to ladies

MADAM—You are hereby invited to act as a delegate to a preliminary meeting of the Women's Parliament to be held in the city of New York on the first Tuesday and Wednesday of October. The object of the Parliament is to organize the women of the world to represent women upon all subjects of vital interest to themselves and their children. The function of the Parliament is to crystallize the

It is very well known that our present public school system, though liberally supported, is disgracefully partial and wholly inefficient. Advantages afforded to boys are denied to girls; physical necessities are only partly realized, and sanitary conditions, essential to the health of the "masses," wholly affected. Women, by the absence of a public function, entirely excluded from any participation in the process of social reconstruction, and without criticism offered, therefore, the only methods by which they can perform the duty which their care for their adapting upposes upon them, and which they are all the more bound to perform, is through the medium of the home. It is essential to the welfare of a child, and the strong recommendation of intelligent, practical women toward any subject vital in its effect to every parent, would carry no weight without the influence and sanction of the women's organization. Especially is it desirable to introduce into our home system departments for the industrial and hygienic education of girls, provided for by competent women, experienced in their work, there being no other persons assigned them and not by party influence and

PRISONS AND REFORMATORY SCHOOLS.
Next in importance to the subject of education is that of correction. The present methods employed are partial and defective. They do not develop the intelligence of the convicts, and wholly unworthy of the intelligence and advanced spirit of the time. Women as well as men are subject to the brutalizing tendencies of the present corrective system, and women, therefore, have a right to examine the subject in relation to the proper and humane treatment of criminals. If there is anything, moreover, that women are competent for, it is to assist intelligently in the work of public correction and charity. Properly, all care of women. It is they who found and stand at the head of nearly all the enterprises of this kind, and it is the universal testimony of persons that churches draw early all their moral support from women.

HYGIENIC AND SANITARY REFORMS.

This is generally the first step taken by schools and public institutions, and a committee of women should be organized with special reference to it. It is quite time that a matter which so nearly affects the public welfare, and the health and safety of the community, should receive the attention of women in such a way as to give their suggestions authority.

FEMALE LABOR.

This is one of the most important questions of the day. It is comparatively new to this generation, women in America having heretofore been exempt for the most part from the

and of a more luxurious state of society is to force this necessity upon women, and the efforts of the Woman's Party, the National Consumers' League, and the National Child Labor Committee, to secure for women the same kind of necessary training and the proper remuneration for their labor.

THE DEPARTMENT OF DOMESTIC ECONOMY.

Under this head is included whatever bears upon the subject of the domestic economy, and the problem of the day is the problem of the day, and anything that increases family comfort and lessens household labor, deserves hearty commendation and inducement.

As a part of the wash-tub, the scheme of co-operative households, of model bakeries, of public laundries, of less work done at home and therefore less necessity for a large number of incompetent servants, would all come within the scope of the Department of Domestic Economy. It is hoped, in some plain and practical suggestions which would

DISHONESTY IN PUBLIC LIFE.
The corruption which taints every department of public life is so notorious that the theme has become commonplace. Every undertaking for the public benefit is turned into a job; every enterprise is tared to its utmost limit to fill the pockets of a few individuals. Honesty and integrity are not expected, and even so much honor as obtains among thieves is applauded. The best men have given up in despair, and live bodies bought up by one man, and no longer feel that there is any protection against grasping power on the one hand and mercenary measures on the other. This rottenness is spread even to commercial circles, and threatens to blast our national reputation. Men avow themselves unequal to the task of stemming the torrent, and we call upon the women of the country to the rescue. For their own sakes, for the sake of their children, and for the sake of the nation, for the sake of the world, and for the sake of the God who created them, let them rise to the rescue.

...the future of their sons and daughters, we beg them to utter such a protest as will make men feel that if fraud and corruption are still allowed to run riot, it must be with the certainty of exposure, and at the risk of losing the good opinion of every man and woman capable of forming and expressing judgment. We do not intend to be understood as advising women so much above men as to suppose them superior to temptation, but we do conceive that the disinterested ports of a body of intelligent women for whom, as menigine for public positions, no temptations to the place or power could exist, might be of inestimable value in exposing wrong and preventing it from being perpetuated.

WHAT THE WOMAN'S PARLIAMENT WILL DO.

It will at once give to women that voice in public affairs which is theirs by virtue of their humanity.

It offers to them the privilege of the vote, without the

It affords them the opportunity of showing that their efforts for the benefit and elevation of mankind at large, are not a personal striving after place and power. With this view it will be understood that this Parliament as a whole, to comply with the demand for "Women's Rights," should recognize women's duties, and pro-

The champions of women's rights are doing a work which we thankfully and gladly acknowledge, but its discussion and demands would be out of place in the deliberations of a sisterhood Woman.

PERMANENT ORGANIZATION.

The organization formed under these auspices is designed to be permanent. Future Parliaments will be composed of representatives from all sections of the country; each series personal representation; that is to say, each member representing the number of votes he is able to poll, and not a majority vote only, as is the case under the present system. The members will elect a permanent Executive where to form associations, especially in all the great centers, such as the cities of Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, New York, etc., and also in the smaller towns, so that all interested organizations widely distributed

Where no societies exist, can participate by sending their vote to some one of their centres, and receive from thence directions as to the ways and means of conducting branch organisations.

WHAT CONSTITUTES A VOTER.

Any woman can become a voter by the payment one dollar a poll tax, for the defraying of parliamentary expenses, the signifying her willingness, and selection of her candidate.

Two political organisations being in existence for women, all voters have the right to make personal effort on the part of candidates themselves and by their friends.

No money is to be paid until the first permanent Parli-of meeting can be sent to them. Mrs. J. C. CROLY,

THE EIGHT HOUR LAW.—The laborers and mechanics at the Brooklyn Navy Yard are to work hereafter only eight hours per day. They resume work again at one o'clock and work constantly until

AN INSURED WOMAN.—A Mrs. Catherine Merers, who resides in East Baltic street, was conveyed to the station house of the Forty-third precinct on Saturday night, by officer Van Wicken, and from thence to the hospital. It appeared that she was suffering from a very severe cut on the head, which was bleeding profusely when the officer found her wandering towards the station house. She most strenuously refused to impart any information as to what assailant she came by the injuries in question.

ation arose at an early hour yesterday morning in apartment house, No. 116 East Baltic street between two of the female occupants, Mrs. Rosa Connell and Mrs. Annie Leonard. During the "trouble," it appears, a glass tumbler was thrown by the former, which struck the latter on the nose, and cut that prominent and useful organ in a most severe manner. Mrs. L. caused the arrest of her adversary, which was accompanied by Officer Reardon. The injured woman was sent to hospital.

The wheels of the vehicle striking her right leg, she was hurled from the sidewalk into the gutter, where she lay for some time before the driver of the car matter here from the hip joint to the knee. The poor little sufferer was conveyed to her parent's residence in the vicinity, where the wounds were attended by the family surgeon who pronounced her recovery to be hopeless. She lingered in great agony until six o'clock yesterday morning, when she died. Captain Leach, of the Forty-ninth precinct,

A MURDERER ASSAULT BY RUFFIAN. —Office of the coroner, 404 Third street, was called Saturday night, at 11:30 p. m., by a woman who stated that a man lying in a pool of blood, nearly insensible, between eleven and twelve o'clock on Saturday night, on Smith street near the corner of Third street, had been shot by a man named Warren. Procuring assistance he got the injured man on his feet and conveyed him to the station house in Rutler street, where the latter stated that his name was Patrick Kelley, and that he was a bricklayer by occupation.

Upwards of $10,000 was subscribed on the spot by gentlemen present, and there was good reason to believe that the project will be carried out.

that this light penalty was considered enough. George Buchanan, an anti-moralist, got two years in the State Prison; Robert Mead, a grand criminal, got three years, and Wesley Jones, a hard case, ten in the same place. William Ichoncrain and Albert Orfhaus, convicted of a vile assault on a young German girl, were sent to Trenton for five years each. The Orange and Newark Horse Railroad company, for maintaining a nuisance, was fined twenty-five dollars, while the city of Newark was placed in the sum of fifty dollars for the same offense.

Twenty-four one hundred and thirty-one feet of the existing track of the Paterson and Newark Railroad along the river front is shortly to be brought before the courts by Mr. Sanchez, owner of "The Cedars" adjoining the cemetery. Mr. Sanchez states that he is first assured that the line would not run along his front and thereupon made a number of improvements, and upon the decision of the company to change the line on the present route and to follow the river front, he agreed with him, commissioners were appointed by the court to assess the damage to Mr. Sanchez's property. It is now alleged that the decision of these commissioners is to be set aside, the company
